Re: Doris Ferguson Memorial Bursary

The Elementary Teachers of Toronto (ETT) is offering four bursaries ($100 each) to students who show leadership in the areas of social responsibility, anti-racism, equity, multiculturalism and/or peace initiatives in our elementary schools.

ETT provides this award to honour the memory of Doris Ferguson, who served as a Community Liaison Officer in Toronto for many years. Her work in building positive bridges within our schools had a significant impact on students, staff and communities.

Award recipients (and up to two family members) will be invited to receive their awards and have their achievements recognized at the International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination (IDERD) dinner organized by ETT's Anti-Racism, Equity and Social Justice committee (ARESJ). This year's celebration will take place:

on Thursday, March 21, 2019
at The Holiday Inn, Yorkdale
3450 Dufferin Street (opposite Yorkdale Shopping Centre)

We hope the attached information package and application form will be helpful in your nomination. Applications must be received at the ETT office no later than Friday, February 15, 2019 at 4:00 p.m.

Rationale

The ETT Doris Ferguson Memorial Bursary

Doris Ferguson worked tirelessly for the promotion of understanding and harmony in the diverse communities within our education system. ETT's Anti-Racism, Equity and Social Justice (ARESJ) committee's goal is to raise awareness of the importance of social responsibility, anti-racism, equity, multiculturalism, social justice and/or peace principles in all levels of Canadian society.

This bursary honours Ms. Ferguson's work, and is an incentive for our schools to recognize the efforts of students who are showing leadership in any or all of the following areas: social responsibility, anti-racism, equity, social justice, multiculturalism and peace initiatives. The monetary award encourages recipients to add to their personal libraries and take advantage of workshops and conferences to enhance their leadership skills for the future.

Eligibility

A school may submit to ETT one or more applications for the bursary on behalf of students in the school who show leadership in the above-referenced initiatives.

ETT will select four students and will present the bursary at the International Day for the Elimination of Racism Day (IDERD) dinner on Thursday, March 21, 2019, at the Holiday Inn Yorkdale.

Selection Process

ETT's ARESJ committee will review the applications and evaluate each nominee, guided by the criteria listed below, as per the attached application form:

- Shows social responsibility
- Shows positive leadership and works collaboratively
- Takes initiative
- Brings about harmony
- Brings positive awareness of anti-racism/multiculturalism/peace principles
- Affects the lives of many fellow students positively
- Impacts positively on school culture
- Has the support of students and staff
- Has a positive attitude toward diversity
- Is a positive role-model for students
- Is an ambassador the school is proud of

All nominees will receive ETT merit certificates to honour their efforts. Participating schools will be notified as soon as possible.
