COMMUNITY ORGANIZING FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE

March 5, 2022

Community Organizing for Social Justice is an opportunity for members to consider and make a plan for how they want to get more involved in their communities as allies and participants in social movements. We will examine the nuts and bolts of community organizing asking: What makes our organizing effective and sustainable? What can we learn from others? How can we be effective allies?

We will also talk about some of the issues that affect the communities members teach in every day and connections between our work as educators and community organizing. This year, we will also consider ways that ETFO members can get involved in the upcoming provincial election.

Registration is limited to 30 participants. You may not register for this program if you have participated in past Community Organizing or Mobilizing for Justice programs.

To register and for more information, visit ETFO's Events Management System at: events.etfo.org/upcoming-events/

Registration opens January 12, 2022 and closes January 26, 2022.

Prior to attending the workshop please watch the series of interviews at: <http://etfovoice.ca/feature/building-communities-make-change>
