

Jada Cadasse

Biography: Jada Cadasse is the Anti-Racism Anti-Oppression Education and Communications Coordinator at the Urban Alliance on Race Relations. She has a BA in Political Science and Sociology from Carleton University. She has a long history working with many grassroots organizations and is passionate about policy initiatives that help diverse communities thrive. She has experience in developing and facilitating workshops on Anti-Racism and Anti-Oppression frameworks. Through her education and professional career, Jada has always been people and community centered and believes that it is important to create spaces where people feel heard and valued.

Workshop title: Understanding Anti Black Racism in Education

Workshop description: This workshop is intended for educators who want to learn about Anti Black racism and the education system and steps to becoming a better ally.

This workshop will cover:

- Race and racism in Canadians society
- Systemic barriers related to race
- Foundational concepts related to anti-racism, including privilege, power, oppression, microaggressions, & bias
- Racial bias and discrimination and how it affects individuals and communities
- Racism in schools and in teaching and learning
- Ways to implement anti-racist practices in our living, learning, and working environments.